

Wednesday 3rd February 2021

O LO: Can I start to plan my non-chronological report, using my research as a guide?

In the lesson today Class 4, we will be starting to plan our non-chronological reports. I have included a planning structure below for you to follow and fill in using the names you have chosen for your subheadings and the facts you have researched. Use the facts you have gathered to shape the names of your subheadings. Take some time to also think about the impersonal language, diagrams and "Did you know?" facts that you would like to include in your non-chronological report. You may also find that you have more paragraphs to plan for than the template allows. That is also fine. If you find that you need more space, you can plan out those paragraphs on the back of this planning sheet.

For further guidance on this task, click the video link titled 'English weekly input' on Class 4's page from this week.

For further guidance and a recap on impersonal language and the features of non-chronological reports, click on the English weekly input link from last week that is still on the timetable.

Paragraph 1 - Introduction
Paragraph 2 -
Paragraph 3 -

Paragraph 4 -

Paragraph 5 -

Paragraph 6 - concluding sentence

Impersonal language I would like to use

e.g. It is said that...

Possible facts for my "Did you know?" box

Diagrams I could include in my non-chronological report