

Free writing challenge

If you have enough time this week, complete some free writing based on the image below. It could be that you write a story and your character visits or lives at the setting that the image shows. I know that some of you liked to write songs or poems when we completed free writing at school. You are welcome to do this during this free write time (which can be any length of time that you have available during the school week), but your challenge is to make whatever you write link to the image on the document. Have fun with it and get creative!

Some questions to prompt you alongside the image below:

- Who are the characters in the picture?
- Where are they going? Why?
- Have they discovered a new place or treasure?
- Do they all know where they are going?
- Do they know what they are going to see, feel and hear when they arrive at their destination?
- Are there any other characters in this short piece of writing? Do they communicate with the current characters on the ship or are they new characters that are discovered at the new destination?

You can use the questions above to support your writing alongside the image if you would like, but you are more than welcome to brainstorm as many ideas as you can think of. I can't wait to see what you come up with! Even if you feel that your draft is not fully finished or there are still edits you'd like to make, it would be great to see your writing on Dojo at any point! That way, if you are not sure how to move forward with it, we can discuss it together.
